Remote Learning

Our core philosophy at CLIP has always been that live face-to-face training is the most effective form of teaching. Many of our candidates have previously tried online courses based around pre-recorded materials and have found the lack of interaction and heavy reliance on written material to be very limiting and frustrating.

We believe that the technology now available has reached a level where we can sufficiently replicate the live teaching experience for remote participants.

Remote Learning

By using industry-standard platforms and cloud-based online resources we are able to offer stand-alone participation both to individuals with basic technology resources as well as integrating with complex enterprise environments used by large firms/corporations. We can bespoke the latter so the user experience is seamless, even co-branded.

“To be the leading professional Law School in the Region”

CLIP was established in 2014 with a firm aim of enabling candidates in the Middle East to qualify as Solicitors (England & Wales). Originally, this meant bringing GDL, LPC and QLTS courses to the region. We still do this.

We have now expanded our portfolio to include delivery of professional legal training. We are a GDLAD CPLD-accredited institution and we are also regulated by the KHDA.
